

SOUTH AFRICAN WINE GROWING AREAS

WINE OF ORIGIN

Although winemaking in South Africa dates back over 300 years, it was only in 1972 that legislation was passed to recognise and protect the distinctive qualities that wine derives from certain areas, estates and grape varieties. Wine of origin stated on the wine list are not necessarily where the farm is situated, but rather where the grapes are sourced from. There are many proclaiming areas but the ones our wine list focusses on is Franschhoek Valley, Paarl, Robertson, Stellenbosch, Constantia, Darling, Tulbagh, Elim, Elgin, Hemel-en-Aarde Valley, Helderberg, Wellington and Swartland.

Franschhoek Valley

The Franschhoek Valley is a small but significant region, inland (to the west) of Stellenbosch. Surrounded by the Drakenstein Mountains, the wide variety of soils and relatively high rainfall permits production of a wide variety of wine styles. It's a hotter region than Stellenbosch, and with its profusion of trendy restaurants it can rightfully claim to be the gourmet capital of the winelands. A district with 1 395 ha under vine, recognised for Cabernet Sauvignon and Sémillon

Paarl

Well known region north-west of Cape Town, and home to several leading producers, including Seidelberg, Ridgeback, Rhebokskloof, Glen Carlou and Backsberg. This district has many mesoclimates, soils and aspects, and thus succeeds with a variety of styles and grapes. Paarl proper is recognized for Shiraz and, more recently, Viognier and Mourvèdre grown on warmer slopes

Robertson

Some 120 km east of Cape Town, next door to Worcester, this hot region is rather paradoxically best known for its whites. De Wetshof, Weltevrede and Graham Beck are among the leading producers here. Increasingly recognised for Shiraz and Cabernet Sauvignon. Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc and Sparkling remain standouts.

Stellenbosch

To many, this intensively farmed district is the wine capital of South Africa. Key contributors to quality are the cooler mountain slopes, varied soil types and breezes off False Bay which moderate summer temperatures.

Constantia

Premier viticultural ward on the eastern flank of the Cape Peninsula, cooled by south-easterly sea breezes. Recognized for white generally, notably Sauvignon Blanc, Sémillon and Muscat.

Darling

District encircling the eponymous West Coast town, best known for the wines from the higher lying ward, Groenekloof, long the source of top Sauvignon; growing reputation for reds, especially Shiraz.

Tulbagh

Inland district traditionally known for sparkling and light whites, more recently for quality reds and serious white blends.

Elim

Maritime ward within the Cape Agulhas district, its 133 ha of vineyards are arrayed around the old mission village of Elim near Africa's most southerly point.

Elgin

Cool upland district within the Cape South Coast region, yielding aromatic whites and elegant reds.

Hemel-en-Aarde Valley

Highly regarded maritime district south-east of Cape Town, recognised for Pinot Noir, Pinotage, Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay

Swartland

Traditionally associated with full-bodied reds, but latterly also within Chenin and Mediterranean-style red and white blends.

FRENCH SPARKLING

Crémant refers to any wine made with the secondary fermentation method of Champagne that isn't actually made in the Champagne region. Crémants can be made in seven regions in France: Crémant de Bordeaux, Crémant de Die, Crémant du Jura, Crémant de Limoux, Crémant d'Alsace, Crémant de Loire, and Crémant de Bourgogne. Crémant d'Alsace is by far the most prolific region, producing more than 50 percent of all French Crémant.

PROSECCO

Prosecco is an Italian wine made primarily with Glera grapes. Often considered similar to Champagne, Prosecco does not always have to be sparkling, and in addition to being made with different grapes, is also made using different winemaking techniques when compared to Champagne, well known for its lively fruit and floral notes, Prosecco also has flavours and aromas of vanilla and honeycomb.

PREMIUM WHITE BLENDS

Blending different wine varietals might just be the most creative part of being a winemaker. It's the moment where you get a chance to exercise your skills at flavour balancing. The process of blending goes beyond just putting grape varieties together. Many winemakers go through a rigorous barrel selection process to identify the best tasting wines. A combination of grape varieties such as Viognier, Chardonnay and Chenin Blanc and have an elegant structure of flavours, including vanilla, apple and blackcurrant. The success of a blended wine is that it is easy to drink and keeps its elegance. In most cases, the goal is to create a wine that is greater than the sum of its parts.

SÉMILLON

Sémillon is one of the Cape's true heritage white varietals, with origins as early as the 17th century (when it became known as "Groendruif" which translates as "Green Grape"), the grape variety accounted for more than 90% of plantings in the first half of the 19th century. The best South African Sémillons have juicy fruit with often an ethereal-like citrus perfume, fine texture, herbal interest and manage to marry the intensity of flavour with finesse

VIOGNIER

Viognier wines are well known for their floral aromas, and terpenes, which are also found in Muscat and Riesling wines. There are also many other powerful flower and fruit aromas which can be perceived in these wines depending on where they were grown, the weather conditions and how old the vines were. Although some of these wines, especially those from old vines and the late-harvest wines, are suitable for aging, most are intended to be consumed young.

GEWÜRZTRAMINER

Gewürztraminer is an aromatic wine grape variety, used in white wines, and performs best in cooler climates. Gewürztraminer is a variety with a pink to red skin colour, which makes it a "white wine grape" as opposed to the blue to black-skinned varieties commonly referred to as "red wine grapes". The variety has high natural sugar content, the wines are white and usually off-dry, with a flamboyant bouquet of lychees. Gewürztraminer and lychees share the same aroma compounds. Dry Gewürztraminers may also have aromas of roses, passion fruit and floral notes.

PINOT GRIGIO

Pinot Gris, Pinot Grigio or Grauburgunder is a white grape variety of the species Vitis vinifera. Thought to be a mutant clone of the Pinot Noir variety, it normally has a greyish-blue fruit, accounting for its name but the grapes can have a brownish to black and even white appearance.

BLANC DE NOIR

The French term meaning “white wine from red grapes.” In particular, the phrase Blanc de Noir is used with those Champagnes, and other sparkling wines that are made entirely from the Pinot Noir grape. Blanc de Noirs are produced by quickly removing the skins from the juice after the grapes have been pressed.

ROSÉ

Rosé is a type of wine that incorporates some of the colour from the grape skins, but not enough to qualify it as a red wine. Rosé wines are made from a wide variety of grapes and can be found all around the globe.

RED WINE

PINOT NOIR

Pinot Noir is a red wine grape variety of the species Vitis vinifera. The name may also refer to wines created predominantly from pinot noir grapes. The name is derived from the French words for pine and black. The pine alluding to the grape variety having tightly clustered, pinecone-shaped bunches of fruit. Pinot Noir creates a lasting impression on the palate and in the memory, it has a soft, velvety texture, it is like liquid silk, gently caressing the palate. Its aroma is often one of the most complex of all varietals and can be intense with a ripe-grape or black cherry aroma, frequently accented by a pronounced spiciness that suggests cinnamon, saffron, or mint.

PINOTAGE

Pinotage is a red wine grape that is South Africa's signature variety. A 1920's cross between Pinot Noir and Cinsault (also known as Hermitage). It typically produces deep red variety wines with smoky, bramble and earthy flavours, sometimes with notes of bananas and tropical fruit. The majority of the world's plantings of Pinotage is found in South Africa, where it makes up just 6% of the vineyard area but is considered a symbol of the country's distinctive winemaking traditions. It is a required component (30-70%) in "Cape blends". Here it is made into the full range of styles, from easy-drinking quaffing wine and Rosé to barrel-aged wine intended for cellaring. It is also made into a fortified 'Port wine' style, and even a red sparkling wine. The latest and fastest growing trend is the production of coffee styled Pinotage. The grape is very dependent on the skill and style of winemaking, with well-made examples having the potential to produce deep coloured, fruity wines that can be accessible early as well as age.

MERLOT

Merlot is a dark, blue-coloured wine grape variety that is used as both a blending grape and for varietal wines. The name Merlot is thought to be a diminutive of merle, the French name for the blackbird, probably a reference to the colour of the grape. Its softness and "fleshiness", combined with its earlier ripening, makes Merlot a popular grape for blending with the sterner, later-ripening Cabernet Sauvignon, which tends to be higher in tannin. It typically produces a soft, medium-bodied red wine with juicy fruit flavours. A range of fresh flavours such as plums, cherries, blueberries and blackberries mixed with cocoa and black pepper tones, often dominate this type of red wine.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Adaptable and internationally planted black grape making some of the world's finest and longest-lasting wines. Cabernet Sauvignon is one of the world's most widely recognised red wine grape varieties. Its origins are in Bordeaux where it has been successfully blended to produce some of the finest red wines ever bottled. Cabernet produces rich, full-bodied red wine which should be enjoyed with equally rich, full-bodied foods.

SHIRAZ

Syrah or Shiraz is a dark-skinned grape grown throughout the world. Shiraz is the South African name for the Syrah grape, possibly Persian origin. South Africa makes Syrah in all its major growing regions. The most elegant wines come from Elgin, Constantia, Cederberg, Malgas and Cape Agulhas, but don't write off the richer styles produced in Stellenbosch, Paarl, Wellington, Franschhoek, Tulbagh and the Swartland.

DESSERT WINE

Dessert wines can be made with grapes that have a high sugar level or brix at harvest, they can be made through adding sugar during the winemaking process, a process known as chaptalisation, or through fortifying. Dessert wines are typically paired with foods that are less sweet than the wine, or they can be enjoyed on the own.
